

KBTS.TV Commercial Scripts Male/Female Ages 4-17

Male TV Commercial Ages 13-17

Google

I have this really weird English teacher this year that actually wants us to write a paper every week this semester. What does she think? That I'm in school to learn? But, no worries for me. I find all the information that I need with one little word, Google. So don't stress, just Google.

Doritos

The other night I came home after a long day at school. When I walked in, my family and friends were waiting for me. They just sat there, staring at me. They were there for an intervention. I mean, I know that I have a problem. I just can't help myself. I am OBSESSED. I try to think about anything else. But I just can't....Doritos...once you start, you can't stop.

College Foundation of North Carolina

I know there is a lot of fun to be had your senior year. But it is also a time of decision- making. I mean before you know it, I am going to be packing for college. That's why I tuned to <http://www.CFNC.org>. It's the college foundation of North Carolina. This site is filled with scholarship information as well as college directories and programs. Look, you can't depend on your parents for everything, so take the initiative and check out the possibilities of your future with CFNC.org.

Male TV Commercial Ages 9-12

Universal Studios

I need a vacation from school. I just found out that my parents are taking me to Universal Studios in Florida. I am so excited. Universal is one of my favorite places to visit. I love the Spiderman ride, the shows, and the roller coasters. Universal, it's the perfect place for a hard working guy like me!

Wal-Mart

I am working on my camping badge for Boy scouts. It is our motto in scouts to be prepared. So my dad took me to Walmart. Walmart has the coolest outdoor equipment. I like the gear that I got at Walmart so much that my Dad lets me camp out in the back yard. Walmart, be prepared.

Crayola Crayons

I want to be an artist when I grow up. That's why my parents started helping me with my dream when I was very young. They gave me a huge box of Crayola Crayons. There is every color that you can imagine. Just think, if I can make a masterpiece with a Crayola Crayon, there is no telling what I will create when I get older. Crayola Crayons will bring out the artist in you.

Male TV Commercial Ages 4-8

Pudding Pops

I love Jello Pudding Pops. They're so delicious. They come in lots of fun flavors like chocolate, vanilla and even swirls. My friends love to come over when mom brings them out. When I grow up and become president, I'm going to make every day Jello Pudding Pops day.

Band-Aid

Want to see the cut under my Band-Aid bandage? Mommy says to keep it covered so it will heal. Hey! Where did it go? It really was right here!

Oreo

I love Oreo cookies. Today I went downstairs and poured myself a big glass of milk to dip my cookies in. When I went to the cookie jar, it was empty. Big brothers stink. Got cookies?

Female TV Commercial Ages 13-17

Verizon #1

Can we talk for just a minute? It's a little embarrassing to talk about but I have a little problem. Well actually it is a big problem. You see I have this huge growth on my ear that I can't get rid of. It's a cell phone. It is always there. Every time you see me you will see it sticking straight out of my ear. The problem is that with the growth came an even bigger bill. That's why I switched my service to Verizon. Now I have a growth I can afford.

Verizon #2

My parents told me they were going to take my cell phone away because I waist all of my minutes on cheap gossip with my friends. Well believe me, gossip is not cheap. It is very valuable if you use it in the right way. After much debate, and a few tears on my part, they signed up for Verizon's unlimited texting plan. I can text Jenny all the new gossip, I mean important news, any time and as much as I want. Thanks Verizon, you really know how to keep a girl connected.

Kit-Kat

Give me a break! I have school all day and dance class at night. That's why when I need a break, I break of a piece of a Kit Kat bar. Kit Kat gives me energy to earn A's all day and then dance the night away! Break me off a piece of that Kit Kat bar!

Female TV Commercial Ages 9-12

Abercrombie

My dad gives me the biggest problem about shopping at Abercrombie kids. He doesn't understand why I would want to buy jeans with holes in them. He says that the clothes look like they have been worn before. He just doesn't realize that is what makes them cool. Abercrombie kids. For the cool kid in all of us.

Tide

My favorite thing to do is play outside. The problem is I play hard and I get really dirty. My mom freaks out. “Jennie, girls aren’t supposed to get that dirty!” ...ughhh. Then my friend’s mom told her about Tide’s new heavy duty detergent for kids, and girls like me. Now I can get as dirty as I want.

Female TV Commercial Ages 4-8

One A Day Vitamins

My mom says I can be anything I want to be when I grow up. That’s why she gives me One a Day Vitamins for Kids. They come in lots of fun shapes and they taste just like fruit! Plus they give my body everything it needs to grow up healthy and strong. I’m trying to decide what I want to be when I grow up, either a brain surgeon or a supermodel. But with One a Day Vitamins for Kids, the future is wide open!

Corn Pops

Where are my corn pops? We are out of my Kellogg’s corn pops! I can’t believe you ate them all, how could you? Stay calm. All of that crunch, all of that sweet popcorn...I want them and I can’t have them! Ugh! I’ve just gotta have my pops!

O’Charley’s

I love chicken fingers! At O’Charlies, big girls like me can eat for free. My dad likes that. So try out O’Charlies, and don’t forget the honey mustard!